Constitution to Go Before Association In Today's Election

Proposed revisions of the Student Government Association constitution go before the members in a general election being held today on the first floor of the Administration building.

Student Senate officers and members have been working on the revisions for about a year.

Past president Jerry brought the difficult task to a conclusion Friday morning, April 11, following the approval of the Student Senate and President J. W. Jones. Overton turned the copy over to the Northwest Missourian for publication at that time.

Improvements Will Help

Many parts of the present constitution have been altered slightly, and others have been changed to a greater degree. Some parts have been deleted entirely, and others, such as Section 10 of Article VI have been added.

Section 10 is probably the most significant proposed addition. According to this section, an elected officer in the Student Government Association who has served a minimum of three months may have recall action brought against him by petition of one-fourth of the students who voted for his posi-

A second important proposed change is the establishment of a Student Court, whose main function would be to handle parking violations on the campus. The Student Court would replace the Judiciary Committee provided for in the present constitution.

Court to Try Violators

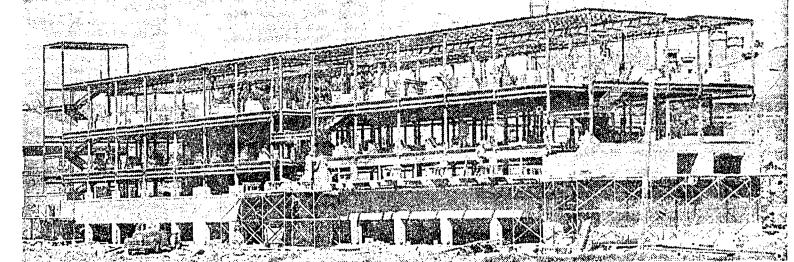

According to the proposed constitution, the decision of the Student Court would be final. Any violator refusing to accept the decision of the Court would be referred to the local civil authorities.

Writers of the proposed constitution have made several changes in an effort to bring the constitution up to date and to provide more efficient student government.

To Maintain Voting Record . .

Things have been steadily looking up around Northwest Missouri State College this school year. Students have begun to realize the necessity and the power of their votes.

Beginning last fall with the election for Homecoming Queen, continuing through the Student Senate elections and the contest for Tower Queen, interest in elections has grown steadily.

But the March 26 election of student body officers and Senators surpassed them all! A total of 1,160 students decided that it was time for action. As a result, a candidate running on a ticket completely opposed to that of the Greek organizations was swept into office, proving that the independent vote is a powerful force on campus.

Now, students of this college have the opportunity-and the duty-to express themselves on what may be the most important matter to come before them for some time, the revision of the Constitution of the Student Government Association, the "law of the land" where student affairs on this campus are concerned.

Every student is urged to go to the polls on first floor any time before 4 o'clock today. Remember, at least 50 per cent of the student body-more than 800 students-must vote in favor of the constitution, on which many persons have spent scores of Magazine Review hours of hard work.
